

INTERIOR DESIGN[®]

APRIL
2008

A photograph of a window display. A white mannequin stands in profile, wearing a voluminous, floor-length blue gown. The scene is lit with dramatic, cool-toned studio lights from above, creating a moody atmosphere. A black metal lighting rig with several spotlights and a large black fan are visible in the foreground. The background consists of a paneled wall.

fashion
not just window dressing

Found Associates

project Kurt Geiger, London.

standout At this two-level, 2,200-square-foot boutique, red carpet flows past a refurbished 1880 staircase—with its Carrara marble steps, wrought-iron balustrades, and brass handrails—to cover an angled ramp showcasing men's shoes.

photography Hufton & Crow/View Pictures. ➤

